Attention all interested parties:

The Cleveland Building and Construction Trades Council enthusiastically endorsed Mayor Frank Jackson for re-election. Mayor Jackson has been a staunch supporter and advocate for the good paying jobs provided by our partner employer associations. He values the immeasurable amount of training and support that we offer to our 14,000+ members, and he believes that we are truly the best in the business.

In 2013, the CBCTC signed the historic Memorandum of Understanding for Community Benefits with the Mayor, the business community, the Urban League of Greater Cleveland, the Cleveland Metropolitan School District and Cuyahoga Community College. This has led to hundreds of low-income and under-employed Clevelanders receiving opportunities for employment in apprenticeships in our Unions. Today many of those same folks have earned good paying careers with benefits in the Building Trades. Through this effort, we have developed a diverse pipeline of men and women to fill our ranks.

Mayor Frank Jackson has a vision for this great city. Despite the challenges during his tenure the Mayor has led with a steady hand and honest approach. He has earned a fourth term, and we will be there to help him win.

Sincerely,
